MONDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 5, 1864.

Consternation South.

The most daring attempt of the war is the march of Sherman through Georgia; and the most conclusive argument in support of the assertion that the South is weakening and her armies melting away, is found in the fact that he can march through the center of the Confederacy unhindered, with an army of 50,000 men, and that his march spreads consternation and dismay through the limits of rebeldom. We hear that he lays waste the beautiful land he travels through, and must feel sad to think of the desolation visiting those fertile fields of once thriving and happy Georgia; but Georgia took up the sword, and unless she resigns her interest in the rebellion, and retires from the contest, she may perish by the sword. It is the consequence of war, and of civilized war, too, that destroys the public works, the rich fields and harvests and the full storehouses of the enemy, and we can only hope that peace may soon be restored to us, and that as a nation we may soon sow and reap the harvests of every section in peace and safety; and that despite the hatred and violence of civil strife we may feel the blessing and necessity of fraternal regard once more. Sherman's movements may prove the critical point of the war, and if his efforts are successful, and his legions march unscathed through the heart of States that have never seen the conflict visit their firesides and homes, the effect may be to increase the apparent disaffection we know of as already existing towards the Confederate Government, in Georgia, and bring the sober second thought that shall eventuate in peace. They must see and feel that there is no diminution of the force and energy of the national arms; no faltering of the northern people, after four years of war and tax; no dissensions in the national councils, and no hope for them, save in the recognition of a national authority they never should have rebelled against.

NEWS OF TO-DAY.—We have a short dispatch to-day but the wires are again down south of Roseburg and we are unable to receive the remainder of the news that is waiting for us at Leven's Station in Southern Oregon. The wires work so badly during this storm that the dispatches have to be repeated several times between here and California, and no dependence can be placed on the regular receipt of intelligence until this storm abates and time elapses to make repairs.

We have Richmond news of Sherman up to the 25th of November. The rebels are anxious to conceal the state of things, but had told enough to show that Sherman is marching towards the sea coast of Georgia without impediment. His real destination is not disclosed by the Government. He seems to have passed Macon and struck at the railroad communications in that vicinity. Hood and Beauregard are evidently not to be feared by him, as they have Thomas to attend to and to attend to them.

Great consternation prevails about Charleston and Savannah, consequent upon his movements, for they have no idea when and where they may expect him to strike.

When the wires work well again we shall doubtless have full returns as to his movements and the success he achieves.

From Olympia we learn that the effects of the storm are disastrous in the vicinity of Port Townsend and Port Angeles. Several small vessels have been wrecked and a number of lives lost. The steamer Eliza Anderson was long past due from Victoria and not arrived. She may, however, not have venturned out in the storm.

LATER.—When ready to go to press last evening the steamer was announced, and we gather much additional news from our files of California papers.

According to Richmond accounts Sherman had passed Macon and seized Milledgeville. At Griffin he had taken quite a number of the members of the Georgia Legislature prisoners.

The reported meeting of the Governors of several Southern States, to be held with Sherman at Augusta, is probably a canard.

It seems that one of the members of the Georgia Legislature is recruiting for Sherman.

The Governors of Georgia and North Carolina seem determined to resist the Southern conscription; and this and the fact that the rebel House of Representatives was becoming unharmonious over prominent questions, is one of the best peace signs we now have.

The details are lengthy, but will well repay a careful perusal.

COLUMBIA RIVER ROAD.—We have a long communication on hand relative to the Columbia River Road leading from Portland to the Dalles, and objecting that the rates of toll charged are in excess of the work done. We have no room for the communication we speak of, but we can inform our correspondent that the general incorporation law offers a remedy, we think, to any charges being collected unless a good road is made, at least on the section where the charges are paid. No toll road less than a good wagon track is contemplated by the law, and it is specific in its requirements as to what constitutes a road under the act. We refer our correspondent to the incorporation act itself.

GRAND LODGE OF WASHINGTON TERRITORY.—The Grand Lodge of A. F. & A. M., for Washington Territory, was in session at Olympia last week, and the following persons were elected Grand Officers for the ensuing year: Asa L. Brown, G. M.; W. H. Wood, D. G. M.; B. E. Lombard, G. S. W.; U. E. Hicks, J. G. W.; Elwood Evans, G. Secretary; Jas. Biles, G. Treasurer.

The statistical returns now being received by the Agricultural Department from all sections of the country shows that the crops will turn out much better than has been anticipated. There will be a full average crop of all the principal products, and of potatoes the crop is extraordinarily large.

The late order of General Hooker, that "No one will consider the duties of the day as ended until the duties it brings have been discharged," is an excellent motto for civil as well as military life.

LEGISLATURE OF WASHINGTON TERRITORY.—The twelfth annual session of this body commences to-day and several members from the Upper Columbia have visited us on their way to Olympia.

By Overland Telegraph.

DATES TO NOVEMBER 28TH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—[illegible] says: It is not known that Sherman [illegible] Macon. [illegible] have only been [illegible] east of Macon [illegible] by this course [illegible]

The Times [illegible] city of Charleston [illegible] and in Savannah and [illegible] fairly excited at Sherman's advance. [illegible] is ordered to the front.

The Mobile Register states that the [illegible] Northwest Mississippi is [illegible] paper says: The Gulf Manufacturers at Montgomery, Alabama, [illegible] the arms needed for the rebel army.

A Richmond dispatch of the 23d says [illegible] body of Sherman's army [illegible] short distance of Augusta [illegible] Georgia Central Railroad [illegible] Savannah at two points within a few miles [illegible] Sherman is everywhere laying waste the country with fire and sword.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2[illegible].—The [illegible] special says that Richmond papers of the 26th contain the latest news from Georgia. There is [illegible] Sherman is still successful. A special messenger just arrived from Savannah reports that [illegible] of Sherman's reaching the sea coast of Georgia.

The World's [illegible] from the Army of the Potomac says that within the last few days we have been receiving a greatly increased number of deserters from the enemy, who corroborate the statements that the army is demoralized. They state that the Richmond authorities are wholly in the dark in regard to Sherman's movements, and are extremely apprehensive that he will strike some unguarded point where he is least expected. Their terror has caused them to increase their picket force along the line of the Danville railroad, and extended their cavalry pickets.

The rebel authorities say Sherman may attempt to form a junction with this army or Sheridan's.

The Times' Nashville correspondence says Beauregard's army consists of 25,000 infantry and 5,000 cavalry.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26.—Notwithstanding the anxiety unmistakably evinced by the rebel authorities and papers of Richmond to conceal the intelligence of Sherman's movements, they cannot disclose a great deal of information but probably not half they know. We have all they were willing to tell us up to last Friday, Nov. 25th.

By Northern Telegraph.

OLYMPIA, Dec. 3.—We have experienced very heavy storms during the past week, causing considerable damage to the shipping in the vicinity of Port Townsend and Angeles. The schooner Brandt and several small vessels were wrecked and a number of lives lost. The officers and crew of the Brandt are supposed to have perished. The storm still continues. The steamer Eliza Anderson, which was due from Victoria last Thursday, has not yet arrived.

ADDITIONAL NEWS BY THE STEAMER.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 25.—After Gillem's recent defeat, Breckinridge advanced to Strawberry Plain and Blair's Cross Roads, threatening Knoxville and Cumberland Gap. On the 21st, Breckinridge advanced to Powell's Bridge, six miles from Cumberland Gap. There was heavy skirmishing all day. Burbridge has moved out from Lexington with a strong force to protect the Kentucky border from the anticipated invasion of Breckinridge's force.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Richmond papers state that General Sherman's army is marching on Millen. They have no doubt Cobb's militia will be able to hold Macon. Information, considered reliable, has been received that the city is only garrisoned by the Georgia militia, composed mostly of old men and boys, and that no attempt will be made to defend the city, for fear that its destruction would follow.

At Griffin, Sherman captured a portion of the Legislature. He is on the march with his forces spread out, sweeping a wide space, devastating and creating ruin to all farms. Sherman's other column is reported moving on Augusta and Milledgeville.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—It is currently reported at Fortress Monroe that Gen. Butler had blown the end out of his canal and let the water in.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The Herald's dispatches from the Shenandoah say that Sheridan's cavalry had another brilliant and successful engagement with Early's army, on Monday last. Three divisions of Union cavalry in the valley, under Gens. Custar, Powell, and Devine, commenced a movement for the purpose of ascertaining the rebel position and strength. Devine marched up Luray Valley, and the two other divisions pushed up the Shenandoah Valley, driving the rebels off in small parties. No resistance of importance was met with until Tuesday, when the main infantry army of fifteen thousand men and a division of cavalry were found at Rude's Hill. The fighting immediately commenced and continued for six hours, being quite severe for the greater part of the time. The artillery made repeated attempts to flank Gens. Custar and Powell, in all of which movements they failed. Some magnificent charges were made by the Union cavalry, but the rebels allowed but little spirit during the engagement. After gaining the desired information as to Early's strength and positions the Union forces commenced retiring. Some feeble attempts to follow were made, but without any success to the enemy. Gens. Custar and Powell returned down the valley with their commands in safety, having lost altogether, in killed, wounded and missing, about sixty.

The dispatches furnish confirmation of the report that some of Early's force had been withdrawn from the valley, but these, the rebels say, have been replaced by scattered detachments from various sources.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—Paducah dispatches of yesterday say that the gunboats [illegible] and [illegible] arrived on Sunday from a reconnoissance up the Tennessee river. They found the river lined with rebel pickets from Pine Bluff to Johnsonville. The rebel Gen. Lyon was commanding in that district. He has orders to watch the river closely, and he will blockade it as soon as Forrest has his pontoon across the river at Chickawa.

Deserters and recruits reported to the gunboats that Hood's army was thirty-five thousand strong, with thirty-seven pieces of artillery. He intended to operate in Middle and Eastern Tennessee and Kentucky, and was marching on Pulaski, Tenn. He expects ultimately to seize Cumberland Gap. His men were greatly in need of clothing, and supplies are only obtained by plundering the towns through which he passes.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—Advices from Fayetteville, Arkansas, say that Col. Brooks, with 2,500 rebels, attacked that place on October 28th, and were repulsed with considerable loss. From that time until Nov. 3d the town was closely invested, when Gen. Hazen, with 5,000 retreating forces, came up and bombarded the town for five hours, with two pieces of artillery. They were held at bay until the next day, when Generals Fagan and Blunt arrived, and the rebels skedaddled. They lost nearly 100 killed and wounded. A Missionary, who traveled some forty miles with the force, reports that Gen. Price told him he had lost 10,000 men, killed, wounded, and deserted, and that his expedition had been a most disastrous one.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—In a debate in the rebel House of Representatives, at Richmond, on the 18th, two or three very interesting points were disclosed by Mr. Foote. The fact that the radical secessionists were engaged in a crusade against the rebel Vice President Stephens, is one of the developments made on the occasion. This war against Mr. Stephens appears to be extending to all the reconstructionists and Boyce. Br[illegible], Leach, Vance, Stephens, [illegible] are denounced as bloody agitators of [illegible] The Confederacy in general is [illegible] against itself [illegible] matters of excitement as Sherman is at present creating. Governor Vance and Governor Brown have taken positive action in opposing the conscription of the conscript laws.

Leach, of North Carolina, [illegible] fully endorse the language of [illegible] and Boyce, and asks to be [illegible] case the Confederacy decides [illegible] He denounces Staples of Virginia as a consolidationist, and [illegible] Government of that State as [illegible] alarmed at the election [illegible] Jeff. Davis [illegible] than the [illegible]

Foote denounced everybody in general, and declares that this is no time to propose peace.

[illegible] The Augusta Sentinel of the 20th has the following:

"A gentleman who arrived on Thursday from Stone Mountain, reports the Yankee column moving down the Georgia Depot, at Decatur, [illegible] ing down the Covington Road, and the other the Rockbridge Road at Stone Mountain, and they had burned all the unoccupied houses and some two-thirds of the towns. They were laying waste the country as they progress. They march in hollow squares with trains in their centre. They waited at Baker's Mill, near Covington, and it is not known whether they will strike for Eatonton or Athens.

"About one hundred Yankee cavalry made their appearance at the School-House, at Circle, on Tuesday, and burned the railroad depot. Their cavalry was at Old Shirtfield on Wednesday night. It is also reported that the Yankees burned Monticello and [illegible]"

The Macon Telegraph of Friday says that the city is considerably excited owing to the reports in regard to the enemy, which is known to be positively marching on the city. Gen. Cobb had issued an order calling out every man capable of bearing arms. A gentleman who left Forsyth on the 17th, informs us that a soldier arrived in that place, who reported that the Yankee cavalry were eight miles north of the town. All the bridges on the road from Forsyth to Indian Springs were burned by our forces.

The Intelligencer publishes the following: A gentleman who left Griffin on Wednesday, at ten a. m., says that Wheeler fought the Federals, who were advancing with a force estimated at from twenty-five to thirty thousand, in two columns, one on the McDonough and the other on the Jonesboro road. He advanced to Bear Creek, ten miles above Griffin, until late in the evening, when he fell back to Griffin and was passing that city on its right. When our informant left, our infantry forces were falling back to Barnesville, and it is probable that at this time Sherman occupies Griffin, and will rapidly demonstrate upon Macon, and perhaps Milledgeville. We learn that Gov. Brown's residence in Canton was burned to the ground by some vandals a few days ago. The Court House, academy, hotels, and jail, with about twenty-five of the best dwelling houses in Canton, were also burned.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 21.—A private despatch from Macon, this morning, says the enemy (Federals) crossed the Ocmulgee in force yesterday, at Planter's Factory, eight miles from Indian Springs. It is reported that they are 30,000 strong. This would seem to strengthen the belief that Augusta is their object. The Central Railroad was destroyed on the 20th and the telegraph cut. Communication between Savannah and Macon is destroyed. The wires between Gordon and Milledgeville were cut.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 25.—Gen. Burbridge with his command has arrived at Cumberland Gap.

Rumors prevail that Hood's army was marching on Pulaski on Wednesday, about 30,000 strong, with ten batteries of artillery, including reinforcements from Forrest and Dick Taylor. Hood will either fight at Columbia, or, leaving Columbia to the left, march into Eastern Tennessee and join Breckinridge. It is possible that a battle will be fought at Columbia to-day. A rebel Colonel was killed in a skirmish yesterday with a detachment of our cavalry. The pickets were driven in to within three miles of Columbia, where the rebels were repulsed by our infantry. On Wednesday our force was withdrawn from Pulaski—it is supposed to be concentrated at Columbia. No danger is threatened to Nashville for the present.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The Tribune has a letter from [illegible], New York, reporting much excitement along the line of the Northern Railroad, in consequence of a report that a large body of raiders have collected in Canada, and armed themselves for the purpose of making an assault upon this section of the State. It was their intention to tear up the track and destroy the locomotives and depots, and commence their task of house breaking and highway robbery.

HALIFAX, Nov. 25.—Dates from Bermuda to the 11th state that the pirate Florida had completed her repairs, and sailed on the 14th. The value of her captures is estimated at over half a million dollars.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The gunboat Nipsic sailed from Philadelphia on Sunday on special service connected with the convoying of the California mail steamers.

The Times says that it is feared that Judge Catron will be unable to take his seat on the bench this year, owing to his very rapidly failing health.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—It is stated, on reliable authority, that the Tallahassee run aground when chased by our gunboats, and that her guns and cargo were taken off. It is thought that she will prove a total loss.

The yellow fever has entirely disappeared from Newbern, N. C.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 21.—The Journal says that Hood's army advances [illegible] from which place he threatens both Nashville and Paducah.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Gold, 218@221.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The Herald's New Orleans correspondent says that the Sheriff [illegible] expedition [illegible] Fourche District was attacked and defeated by a rebel force, which destroyed the [illegible] and [illegible] a number of horses.

[illegible] The Richmond Whig of the 24th says information [illegible] that Sherman has passed by Milledgeville and will move towards the Atlantic coast [illegible] the left side of Augusta.

The Enquirer [illegible] admits that Milledgeville has fallen. Sherman occupied the place on Sunday.

A telegram from Augusta on Wednesday says all was quiet.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—According to the latest rebel papers, Sherman's demonstration towards Macon was a feint. No attack was made on that place, up to Wednesday last, but when a short distance from it he turned north and eastward toward Milledgeville, which town it is reported his cavalry captured last Sunday night. Subsequent, it is said, he burned the capitol building and Penitentiary, and it is also said that a strong force of cavalry had made a demonstration on Augusta, within twenty miles of which place his right wing was, with strong forces. The movement on Augusta is also considered a feint to distract attention from Sherman's objective point, which is supposed to be Savannah. It is prophesied that he will move as directly as possible on the latter city, leaving Milledgeville, and the belief is expressed that the large Union fleet which has been collected on James river is destined for Savannah, and will meet Sherman there.

The Augusta Chronicle of the 19th states that a large fleet of transports had already arrived off the coast of Georgia. The same paper abuses, in strong language, Jeff. Davis and other of the Richmond authorities, for not sending troops into that State to impede Sherman's movements.

The Herald's New Orleans correspondence of the 17th, says the rebel cotton-burners and guerrillas had been almost cleaned out of the district of Baton Rouge. Our lines had been extended in that region.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26.—The correspondent of the American, writing from Annapolis last evening, says two vessels, comprising a part of Col. Mulford's fleet of transports, arrived to-day with the paroled men from Savannah. There were on board 679 living skeletons, 8 dead bodies, and 9 were buried in the deep on the passage. Our surgeons were appalled at the sight. There were but few among the number of one ship but had to be sent to the hospitals—many to have their only for the grave. The flag on the other ship were in [illegible] made the welkin ring when they landed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The St. Nicholas, St. James, Belmont, Metropolitan, Astor, Lovejoy's, and Belmont Hotels, with Barnum's Museum, were fired last night, none of which were much damaged. The affair caused great consternation to the occupants of the hotels, and the audiences at the Winter Garden and Barnum's Museum. It appears that a woman has been arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the incendiarism. She arrived in the city but a few days since from Baltimore, and took a room at the St. Nicholas last night. Just before the fire broke out there she went to the Lafarge House and stayed a short time, leaving just before the fire broke out there. She then went to the Metropolitan and engaged a room. A fire breaking out there, very soon afterwards. The manner in which the fires were [illegible] show a preconcerted plot. In the beds, the bedclothes, and some trunks, etc., were found covered with phosphorus matches were also scattered in the beds, the fires were then set, and the doors locked.

San Francisco Legal Tenders [illegible]
New York Gold Quotations [illegible]

FIREMAN'S ELECTION DAY.—To-day the firemen of the city will choose their Chief Engineer and three Assistants, for the government of the Department, the ensuing year. The members of the Department only are entitled to the rights of the elective franchise on this particular occasion, but as every tax payer in the city is deeply interested in the matter, they have a right of asking the individual members of each company to place in those positions men upon whom the community can rely, for integrity and purity of purpose, just as consistently as the people of a Territory can wish for the selection of a competent Executive for the direction of governmental affairs of the Nation. The [illegible] branch of this city's possession, the [illegible] a fourth part of the appropriations that have been conferred upon the Fire Department, and all that can be asked of the department in return for this expenditure is an efficient organization, which can only be kept up by the selection of competent, faithful and honest leaders.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The November session of the Circuit Court, Judge E. D. Shattuck presiding, has been a very important one, lasting for three weeks. The session of Saturday closed the term. Of over sixty indictments returned by the Grand Jury, to-wit: 1 for murder in the first degree; 1 for assault with intent to commit murder; 1 for assault with intent to disfigure the person of another; 1 for gambling; 28 for selling liquor on Sunday; and 27 for keeping open saloons on Sunday, but one escaped conviction. A large number of Chancery causes were continued. The case of Madison B. Morris vs. the City of Portland, for damages to plaintiff's person, was decided by judgment in favor of the city. Two cases appealed from the County Court, for possession of real property—Marshall vs. Field, and [illegible] vs. Arthur Fay—in which judgments had been rendered for defendants, the judgments were reversed on Saturday.

ATTEMPT TO SMUGGLE.—Collector of Customs P. W. Gillette seized a very costly fur cloak on Friday last, which had been purchased in Victoria and was attempted to pass the Custom House without the customary duties being paid on it, which would have amounted perhaps in all to $14. The transaction will be investigated in the United States District Court. It may seem in the eyes of the public as though this was a small matter to "make a fuss about," but as trifling as it may appear it is of some consequence, and the officer is just as much entitled to credit for doing his duty in regard to preventing a single garment from passing free as he would be in stopping a case of goods worth $5,000. There is a very large quantity of goods annually imported to Oregon in such manner, and the only security our merchants have, in allowing them to compete with the cheap prices of Victoria merchants, and save to Uncle Sam his customs, is a vigilant watch of the appointees of the government.

HURDY GURDIES.—The act of the last Legislative assembly, in relation to hurdy hurdy dance houses, goes into effect to-day. Under the provisions of the law the County Clerk is authorized at any session of the County Court, to issue to the Sheriff any number of blank licenses sufficient for the purposes contemplated, and all such taxes shall be collected by the Sheriff and paid into the County Treasury the same as Chinese taxes are collected, every month after the issuing of the license. The act provides for the punishment of any persons within the meaning of the law, in case of failure to comply, and the Sheriff is in duty obliged to prosecute each case, under forfeiture of $500 for every one neglected, except as provided for. This is a stringent act to come up on the late ordinance of the City Council, which considered together, require $400 per month taxes for such institutions in our city.

DRUNKEN INDIANS.—There appears to be an increasing number of straggling, vagabond Indians in our midst, and they are pretty generally armed. Saturday night officer Skidmore arrested one and locked him up for his appearance to-day, on a charge of assaulting a white man with a knife. The officer took from him two "bowies" and a bottle of whiskey, which will be brought into Court with the Indian. Officer Townsend assisted another decade specimen of the race to jail, for being caught drunk on the streets at night. Another, a "proud monarch of the forest," slightly tight, applied at H. Saxer's on Saturday, for liquor, and on being forced from the premises, drew a knife on the clerk. Getting the worst end of the bargain, however, he decamped. We do not know where these Indians belong, but feel sure they are not upon the right "reservation" at present, and would direct the attention of "all whom it may concern" to the late act of the Legislature, published in our columns a month since, providing for the return of straggling Indians to their reservations.

WILLAMETTE THEATRE.—The play of "Adrienne the Actress," was finely put upon the stage at Willamette Theatre on Saturday night, and we feel certain that no better acting was ever produced than Mrs. Hayne's Adrienne; it was all that could be desired by any one, and as the piece is one of most refined and elegant composition, it struck us very forcibly that it was a play upon which to judge of the merit of our most accomplished performer, Mrs. Hayne, and those who witnessed the evening's entertainment will accord her the praise she deserves, if the part was properly appreciated. The entire company appeared to be in good humor, and Mrs. Getzler as Angelique, Waldron as Maurice, and others did well. A comical nautical drama wound up the evening's playing, in which Mrs. Getzler and Mr. Dennis particularly, acquitted themselves with credit.

CHANGE OF COMMANDERS.—The steamer Senator made her first Sunday trip to Oregon City yesterday with the mails and passengers of the California Overland Stage Company. Capt. Kellogg, who has been the successful and obliging commander of this handsome craft, since her completion and engagement in the trade, has retired from the position he so honorably filled, and is succeeded by Capt. Baughman, late of the Rival. Capt. Hake, of Vancouver, has taken charge of the late position of Capt. Baughman. In parting with Capt. Kellogg we can but express the wish that prosperity may attend him in whatever calling he may engage, and this is most certainly the wish of all who knew him as the guide of the fine steamer Senator.

A NEW FIRM.—By reference to the advertisement in another column, it will be seen that a change has taken place in the management of the Oregon Iron Works in this city. Mr. E. L. Jones having disposed of his interest to Mr. E. S. Morgan, the style and name of the firm will hereafter be known as "A. C. Gibbs & Co." Mr. M. is lately of Jacksonville, in this State, and his past experience in the foundry business East, is sufficient guarantee that the good reputation of the Oregon Iron Works heretofore, will be maintained in future.

THE HABEAS CORPUS CASE.—The "habeas corpus" case, of Frances B. Kendall vs. William Willetts—a mother sueing for the recovery of children from the father—applied for in Circuit Court, is set for hearing on Thursday, at the Council Chamber.

EUREKA THEATRE.—There was another crowded audience at this place of amusement last Saturday evening. There is no humbug about the "Varieties," and their jokes, songs, burlesques, dances, etc., amuse everybody. They [illegible] their audience muchly, nightly. The [illegible] being the only place of amusement [illegible] night seats had better be secured early.

GOVERNMENT BRIG.—The steamer [illegible] which arrived at noon yesterday from Astoria, brought the government brig [illegible] Fort Vancouver, with [illegible] Quartermaster and Commissary Departments from San Francisco.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP BROTHER JONATHAN.—The C. S. N. Company's steamship Brother Jonathan, S. J. DeWolf, Commander, arrived at her dock in this city from San Francisco, at 10 o'clock last evening, bringing later dates from the East than we have received by telegraph, which will be found in another column.

THEATRE.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kean [illegible] with Miss Chapman and Messrs. [illegible] arrived [illegible] night by the steam [illegible]. Mr. [illegible] has [illegible] Portland [illegible]

Honor to the Toiling Hand.

Later from China and Japan.

By the Eagle Hawk we have [illegible] of the proceedings of the Allies in [illegible] the Inland Sea of Japan. Tshosin was attacked by the combined fleet which left Yokohama [illegible] and came to terms after [illegible] his guns and destroying some half a dozen [illegible] in the Straits of Simonoseki. The fleet arrived there in [illegible] order on the 4th Sept. [illegible]

The attacking squadron [illegible] composed of H. M. S. Tartar, Barossa and [illegible] H. M. S. Duplex, and H. N. M. S. Medusa and [illegible] the Perseus, Medusa, Tancrede, Coquette, [illegible] Argus, Eurydice [illegible] and [illegible] or also taking part, led the way, one after another, right past the forts, [illegible] for the [illegible] opposite. The forts remaining silent. There was a pause for a quarter of an hour. The French Admiral left his vessel and went on board the Euryalus to confer. The British Admiral then fired a shell into the [illegible] fort, which immediately replied in kind. A brisk fire was kept up until 5:30 p. m., when the Japanese fire slackened. Next day the Allied troops landed and took the forts. The enemy fled [illegible] fields, from which they kept up a musketry fire. They fought bravely and twice drove the French and English soldiers near the water's edge. On the following day, 8th September, a flag of truce went on to the Euryalus, and two Japanese went on board who said that Tshosin was willing to come to any terms, and would send his Prime Minister to see the Admiral. At the time appointed the Japanese Minister was punctual. He said that the Mekado and Tycoon last year had ordered him to fire upon all foreigners, that the Allies thought him unfriendly, but he had no ill will; and he cordingly supplicated for peace and pardon.

Upwards of 80 valuable brass guns, two weighing upwards of 8 tons each, were captured, and the admiral is highly complimented on the result. The total loss to the fleet was 100 killed and wounded. The loss on our side was 10 killed and 40 wounded. No English officers were killed, but the following were wounded: Euryalus, Captain Alexander, dangerously; Lieut. [illegible] wards, slightly; Mr. Atkinson, badly; [illegible] Lieut. Brawnly, dangerously; Mr. Wrigh[illegible] Midshipman, dangerously; Lieut. De[illegible] in the wrist. The storming parties behaved gallantly. The Japanese lost from 200 to 300 men.

On the 14th September the Admiral went ashore and agreed upon terms of peace. The [illegible] as well as the guns, 70 in number, belonging to Tshosin, were removed, and there was no longer any obstacles to vessels of any flag in passing the Straits. Tshosin agreed to pay an indemnity to the Allies, which the Japanese Government had since assumed. The Straits hereafter are to be free and unrestricted for all nations, and no more forts are to be erected in Tshosin's dominions. The town of Simonoseki is to be opened to foreign trade, and the safety of all foreigners is guaranteed when they visited it.

The losses by the fleet were as follows: British, 8 killed and 48 wounded; French and Dutch, 4 killed and 8 wounded; total, 8 killed and [illegible] wounded. The Japanese loss was from 200 to 300 killed and wounded. Part of the fleet was to winter at Simonoseki, to see that Tshosin fulfilled his promises. The steamer Takiang, which has been chartered by Minister Pruyn, accompanied the Allied fleet and represented the American flag. She had a 2-pound Parrott gun, which did good execution in the action. The indemnity to the Americans was expected to reach $200,000, which, it was believed, would much overpay all expenses. This steamer had since been sold by her owners to the Japanese Government for $[illegible] Commissioners of the Allies were to meet the Japanese officials at Kanagawa on the 15th of October, to adjust the amounts of indemnity to the various nations. It was anticipated that the General Government would be strong enough hereafter to keep its unruly nobles in check and preserve the peace.

The Straits and town of Simonoseki are now open to all nations and the Japanese Government had agreed to indemnify the allies.—Bulletin.

General Hooker.—A correspondent of the Springfield (Ill.) Journal relates the following:

"What sort of Democrats are these?" This was the exclamation of Gen. Hooker on the train, on his way from Chicago to this city. At Lincoln, where a Copperhead meeting was being held, Dick Merrick came on board the train, and having been introduced to Gen. Hooker, the latter asked him if he had heard the glorious news from General Sheridan. Merrick said no, and asked what it was. When the General informed him, Merrick's countenance lengthened about a foot and a half. It was so palpably disagreeable to him that the General subsequently remarked to a friend, "What sort of men are these Northern Democrats? They are cast down at the news of the success of our arms. It was not the case in old times with the Democratic party." At Lincoln, when General Hooker passed by in the train, the Copperheads were holding a meeting, and numbers of them left their speaker and flocked to the depot to see the General. He was called out on the platform of the cars, and received with much cheering. When it ceased, an Irishman said: "Gineral, I'll be bound, now ye're for Little Mac for President." The General quickly replied: "I'll be bound, sir, I am not. I am for Abraham Lincoln." Some Copperheads hissed, but the Union men sent up cheer upon cheer, as the train passed on its way.

Spent per Spent/ Belmont Backed Down.—The Brooklyn (N. Y.) Eagle tells the following good story of Augusto Belmont, the illustrious Chairman of the Democratic National Committee:

Belmont, in conversation with a party of gentlemen, a day or two since, expressed himself as sure of the election of "Little Mac." There were cavils, and Belmont proposed to back his opinion with a bet of $1,000. A well known broker, who supports Lincoln, at once accepted the bet. "Now," said he, "Belmont, I would like to double the money on Lincoln." "Agreed," said Belmont. "And now," said our Union man, "I will double that, if you say so." Belmont was, however, reached the end of the brag rope, and ingloriously backed out. Now, it was not that he cared for the loss of five or six thousand dollars, but that he knew very well that his antagonist would have put up not less than one million of dollars if Belmont had been willing to back his candidate to that amount.

A proprietor of a cotton mill, who is something of a philosopher, posted on the factory gate the following notice:

"No cigars or good looking men admitted." When asked for an explanation, he said: "The one will set a flame a going among my cottons, and the other among the gals. I won't admit such inflammable things into my establishment at any risk."

The Hebrew.—The [illegible] a loyal paper of the Hebrew faith, notices the re-election of Lincoln as follows:

"In the re-election of Mr. Lincoln, the united voice and will of the people have triumphed. He has been chosen [illegible] Saul [illegible] reign over Israel; and that he may succeed in restoring peace and unity, is the prayer of all good citizens."

At a recent State dinner at Copenhagen, a certain quantity of Queen Margaret's vintage, four centuries old, was produced, as is the custom on State occasions. It is stated that [illegible] gan is required to make it palatable [illegible] adds a person who [illegible] only cared to do so for [illegible]

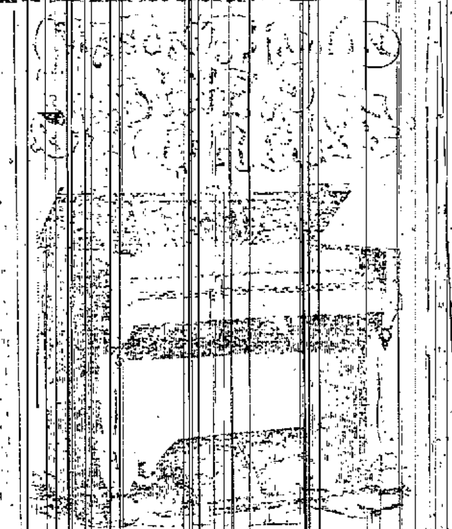

The King of Oude [illegible] 000. He has not stirred out of his palace for ten years, and spends his time [illegible] birds for his aviary, and beautiful girls [illegible] sort for his harem. [illegible] glutton, and a prince [illegible]

LE DOYEN'S

SARSAPARILLA, YELLOW DOCK

CLEANSE THE BLOOD.

WITH corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood you must be sick all over. It may burst out in pimples or sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. Sarsaparilla purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints, which are caused by impurities of the blood, such as Scrofula or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, Syphilis or Venereal Disease, Liver Complaints and Heart Diseases.

Blood and Liver.

This valuable Medicine is now available to the public for the cure of

SCROFULA, CONSUMPTION, RHEUMATISM, CANCER, HEART, LIVER AND KIDNEY DISEASES, NEURALGIA, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, &c.

AS A TONIC,

Its operations are evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increasing the appetite. In cases of Dyspepsia, Emaciation and Debility, an increased vitality of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and good.

Are you sick, feeble and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Le Doyen's Sarsaparilla, and cleanse out the disordered system—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again.

AS A LITHONTRIPTIC,

it has no equal; being chemically combined with Iodine, it possesses in a high degree the power of dissolving Stone in the Bladder, and urators of the kidneys, preventing gravel formation and enlargement of the prostrate glands, irritation of the neck of the bladder, dropsy, &c.

Sole Agency of Le Doyen's Sarsaparilla for the Pacific Coast: CRANE & BRIGHAM, Wholesale Druggists, San Francisco.
